Our auction venue

The Royal Society for the encouragement of Arts, Manufactures and Commerce was founded in 1754, by William Shipley, a drawing master from Northampton, who assembled a group of the most eminent artists, philosophers and scientists of the day and declared that the objectives of his Society were 'to embolden enterprise, to enlarge science, to refine art, to improve our manufactures and to extend our commerce'. The Society moved to its present premises, which were purpose built by the Adam brothers as part of their Adelphi development, in 1774.

Our logo

A. H. Baldwin and Sons Ltd., founded in 1872, has had premises in The Adelphi since the 1920's and since 1970 at 11 Adelphi Terrace. The original terrace was demolished in 1936. The drawing is derived from part of Robert Adam's original plans for his Royal Terrace, and depicts the house at the West end of the Terrace at the corner of Robert Street.

INDIA

For some 650 years Islamic or Islamic-style coinage was struck in what is now India, Pakistan and Bangladesh. From the Muslim conquest of northern India at the beginning of the 13th century AD right up to the 19th century (and in some cases even later), the Muslim rulers of India struck a huge variety of coins in gold, silver, billon and copper. The coins of the sultanates, the Mughals, and the successor and princely states were struck in a great variety of styles at a large number of mints. Such was the popularity of this coinage that it was imitated by non-Muslim rulers as well. No general collection of Islamic coins, be it private or institutional, can be considered complete unless it includes at least a representative selection of those coins struck in India.

SULTANATES

From the beginning of the Muslim conquest of northern and eastern India in the 13th century AD, the victorious leaders began to mint coins in their own name and in that of the contemporary caliphs. The powerful sultanate of Dehli initially imitated the local types of gold and billon coinage, but soon they and the sultans of Bengal initiated their own coinage of handsome silver tankas, in due course augmented by gold issues as well. Most of these coins are purely inscriptional but, from Bengal, there are also examples featuring a mounted horseman, and others featuring a lion. The Bengal sultanate lasted until its conquest by the Mughals in the late 16th century AD, but the Dehli sultanate in due course fragmented, giving rise to independent kingdoms (some shortlived) in Madura, the Deccan, Malwa, and Gujarat. All these sultanates issued their own coinage, often in very distinctive styles. The standard reference work on this series is The Coins of the Indian Sultanates by Stan Goron and JP Goenka.

MUGHAL

The defeat of the last sultan of Dehli by Babur at the battle of Panipat in 1526 AD resulted in the start of Mughal rule in India. The initial Mughal silver coinage maintained the form of the central Asian shahrukhis but after the short-lived but important Suri interlude, which saw the introduction of the rupee and the heavy copper paisa or dam, Mughal coinage, particularly from the reign of Akbar, comprised the familiar rupee, augmented by the gold mohur and, initially, a copious copper coinage. The coins of Akbar, Jahangir and Shah Jahan are often very decorative and attractive, and much sought after by collectors of Indian coins. Issues of later rulers tend to be more uniform in style but were struck at a large number of mints, the number of which continues to grow as new ones are identified or discovered. There are various ways of collecting Mughal coins: one can collect the coins of a single ruler; or of a single mint; or by type for each ruler and mint; and the specialist can also collect by type, mint and date. Most Mughal coins bear two dates: the hijra date and the regnal year of the ruler, which makes collecting by date even more of a challenge as the two usually overlap. There is no overall corpus of Mughal coins but there are various museum catalogues and the listings in KM are quite extensive.

SUCCESSOR STATES

The eventual weakening of the Mughal empire in India led to the growth of successor states and competitors. From a relatively early stage the Marathas in western India were frequently in conflict with the Mughals while during the course of the 18th century AD the realms and influence of the Mughals diminished greatly as regional and local power was exercised by the Marathas, the Afghan Rohillas, the Jats, the Sikhs and various other princes and chieftains, not to mention the various East India Companies. All of these entities struck coins in the style of the Mughals, in Persian script, and usually cited the name of the Mughal emperor on those coins. This applied even to many states whose rulers were not Muslim. The coins of this series feature a multitude of different mintmarks. They can be collected by type, by state, but in some cases it is better to collect by date too as certain mints changed hands frequently. There is no corpus of state and 'pseudo-Mughal' coinage; there are individual works on the coinage of Mysore, the Sikhs, the Sindhias of Gwalior, the Holkars of Indore, and the Marathas. The listings in KM are useful but need revision in various areas.

MEDALS

OTTOMAN

Mehmed II (848-849h, 855-886h), uniface cast Æ Medal, c.1480, by Gentile Bellini, MAGNI SVLTANI MOHAMETI. II. IMPERATORIS, crescent stop, bust of Mehmed left wearing turban and gown, 92mm (Hill Corpus 432; Kress 144; Armand I:78 and III:18a; Middeldorf 55). An 18th-century cast, or perhaps earlier; cast on a thin flan with a slightly incuse 'shadowed' image on reverse, very fine with a rich brown patina. £500-700

In 1479 Gentile Bellini (c.1429–1507 AD), was sent by the Republic of Venice to paint his famous (and much reproduced) portrait of Mehmed II, from which this medal derives. This medal has the more usual reading, MAGNI SVLTANI; however, the vine-leaf at the start of the legend has been replaced with a crescent, and the numeral II has been added after Mehmed's name. A similar medal (the V & A specimen), the reverse of which shows the three crowns of Constantinople, Iconium and Trebizond, was most recently published by Susan Spinale in 'Re-assessing the so-called 'Tricaudet Medal' of Mehmed II', The Medal, Spring 2003, pp 3-22, fig 3. A 19th-century electrotype copy of this medal is being offered in Auction 37, lot 1891.

5. Bidding commissions for anyone unable to attend the auction in person will be carried out by Baldwin's Auctions Ltd. without any additional charge. Bids must be in writing and be received at least 24 hours before the sale. "Buy" commissions will not be accepted. Baldwin's Auctions Ltd. shall not be liable for errors or omissions in executing any bidding commissions. We cannot guarantee to execute written bids received less than 24 hours before the commencement of the sale. If two absentee bidders bid identical sums for the same lot, the first bid received shall take precedence.

6. The buyer of any lot shall, if requested, immediately notify his name and address to the auctioneer and if required,
(a) provide bank/or other credit references;
(b) pay the full purchase price, or a fractional deposit as may be determined at the discretion of the auctioneer.

7. (a) Lots are sold as shown with all faults, imperfections and errors of description and lack of authenticity. Neither Baldwin's Auctions Ltd. nor the vendor shall give any warranty to any buyer in respect of any lot or be liable for any fault or error of description or lack of genuineness or authenticity of any lot. All statements as to items sold, whether made in catalogues, during the course of the auction or otherwise, are statements of opinion only and are not and shall not be taken to be statements or representations of fact. Baldwin's Auctions Ltd. reserve the right in forming their opinion to consult and rely upon any expert or authority considered by them to be reliable.

(b) Notwithstanding the foregoing, if any lot, other than a miscellaneous item not individually described in the catalogue, should be proved by the buyer to be not genuine or authentic, or to have been wrongly described in any material respect, the buyer may reject the same provided that he shall have given notice of his intention so to do and shall have returned the same to Baldwin's Auctions Ltd. within seven days from, and in the same condition as at, the date of sale. The onus of proving a lot to be not genuine or authentic or to have been so wrongly described shall lie with the buyer. Proof of the inability of any recognised expert or authority to express a definite opinion shall not discharge such onus. If the buyer shall discharge such onus, the auctioneers shall rescind the sale and repay to the buyer the price paid by him. Save as provided herein, Baldwin's Auctions Ltd. shall not under any circumstances whatsoever be liable for any costs, expenses or damages (whether direct, indirect, special or consequential) incurred by the buyer in respect of any lot, whether or not as a result of any fault, imperfection, error or description or lack of genuineness or authenticity, including but not limited to loss of any kind of profit whatsoever.

8. All lots are reserved at 80% of the lower estimate, with auctioneer's discretion.

9. Save as provided in the preceding paragraph of these conditions buyers must satisfy themselves as to the accuracy of their purchases at the time of delivery. Baldwin's Auctions Ltd. cannot be held responsible for any discrepancy which might be discovered after the lots have been removed from either the auction room or the auctioneers' premises.

10. Baldwin's Auctions Ltd. act solely as agents and shall not be responsible for any default by either the buyer or seller or for any action or claim which may arise in respect of any lot.

11. Each lot shall be held at the buyer's risk from the fall of the hammer. The lot or lots shall be removed by the buyer within seven working days after the date of the sale. Baldwin's Auctions Ltd. reserve the right to charge storage and to resell by auction or privately, without notice to the buyer, any lots not so removed.

12. Any part of the purchase price left outstanding after the auction pursuant to Condition 5 shall be paid in full within thirty days of the date of the auction. Without prejudice to any other rights, Baldwin's Auctions Ltd. reserve the right to charge interest on any overdue payment at the rate of three per cent per month. Seven working days' notice must be allowed for clearance of personal cheques before delivery can be made unless prior arrangements have been made with Baldwin's Auctions Ltd. A 4% surcharge will be applied to credit card payments.

13. Buyers accepting commissions from third parties do so at their own risk and will remain responsible to Baldwin's Auctions Ltd. for full settlement according to these conditions.

14. By making a bid the buyer acknowledges his acceptance of these Conditions and shall be bound by them.

15. If any buyer fails to comply with any of these Conditions, the lot or lots in respect of which the failure is made may at the discretion of Baldwin's Auctions Ltd. be put up again and resold. The damages recoverable from the defaulting buyer shall include, but not be limited to, the auctioneers' expenses and commission in respect of the resale and the amount (if any) by which the price obtained on the resale is exceeded by that obtained on the first sale.

16. A variation of these Conditions shall only be binding on Baldwin's Auctions Ltd. and the vendor if it is made in writing and signed by a duly authorised representative of Baldwin's Auctions Ltd.

17. These Conditions shall take effect and be construed in accordance with the provisions of English law.
